

SAVE THE DATE

Stanford University

Down Syndrome Conference @ Stanford University

Saturday, April 18, 2020

Time: TBD

Nationally-recognized speakers

Medicine

Independent Living

Education and more

This conference is brought to you by The Matthew Foundation, managed by Stanford Down Syndrome Research Center and in collaboration with Silicon Valley Down Syndrome Network and the Down Syndrome Clinic at UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital. It will feature topics that are relevant to a person with Down syndrome, their family, and address topics specific to California residents like CalAble, IHSS, and more.

Organizing Committee:

Chairs: Craig Heller, Director, Stanford Down Syndrome Research Center & Professor of Biology and Jessamy Tang, The Matthew Foundation

Lisa Gedryn, Silicon Valley Down Syndrome Network

Chris Lemons, Assoc. Professor, Stanford Graduate School of Education; frequent speaker at NDSC

Marcy Mamiya, Development, Stanford University; former board member, Silicon Valley Down Syndrome Network

Melanie Manning, Director, Center for Down Syndrome; Clinical Assoc. Professor, Stanford University School of Medicine

Kristin Meier, Silicon Valley Down Syndrome Network

Noemi Spinazzi, Medical Director, Down Syndrome Clinic, UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital Oakland

For more information: info@thematthewfoundation.org

